A Contemporary School on the Site of Pilate's Palace Where Christ was Condemned

Description
This is a photograph of a building in Jerusalem. E. Clifton Daniel, Jr. wrote: "This building is a part of the Moslem School that stands on the site of Pilate's Palace, where Christ was condemned to death and taunted by the Roman soldiers on the day of His execution. Here began the annual pilgrimage along the Via Dolorosa -- that is, the way that Christ supposedly followed from Pilate's Palace to His death on the Cross at Calvary. The Pilgrimage is made on Good Friday." The photograph is numbered "1". It is the first in a series of ten photographs that record Daniel's experience in Jerusalem and that are documented in a letter to his parents.

Date(s) ca.
1950

Accession Number 2016-832

2.1 x 2.3 inches Black & White

Related Collection Daniel, Margaret Truman and E. Clifton Daniel Papers

Rights The Library is unaware of any copyright claims to this item; use at your own risk.

Note: If you use this image, rights assessment and attribution are your responsibility.

Credit: E. Clifton Daniel Harry S. Truman Library & Museum.

Attention media: Please make note of this item's accession number. Print out this page and retain it for your permissions records before downloading this image file for possible publication. Library staff cannot sign permissions forms or provide additional paperwork. The Library charges no usage fees for downloaded images.