The Department of State Building, later known as the Old Executive Office Building

Description
The massive gray stone building, shown here, housed the United States Department of State since 1875. Located on Pennsylvania Avenue next to the White House, it has been the scene of many formal ceremonies important in the foreign relations of the nation. With the removal of the central offices of the Department to more modern quarters, it will be occupied largely by the executive offices of the president.

Date(s) ca.
1949

Accession Number 58-508

8x10 inches (21x26 cm) Black & White

Keywords Historic buildings

HST Keywords Department of State Building; Old Executive Office Building

Rights The Library is unaware of any copyright claims to this item; use at your own risk.

Note: If you use this image, rights assessment and attribution are your responsibility.

Harry S. Truman Library & Museum.

Attention media: Please make note of this item's accession number. Print out this page and retain it for your permissions records before downloading this image file for possible publication. Library staff cannot sign permissions forms or provide additional paperwork. The Library charges no usage fees for downloaded images.