American troops pressing the German retreat during World War I

Description
Pressing the German retreat the St. Mihiel salient. American troops are streaming northward toward the ruins of a village burned by the German and showered with shell by the American batteries. The ground is shell raked. Donor: Frank Freidel, who purchased the photographs from the National Archives.

Date(s)
1918

Accession Number 65-4050

4x5 inches (10x13 cm) Black & White

Keywords Soldiers World War, 1914-1918

HST Keywords France - Freidel, Frank - World War I collection - Front lines; World War I - General file

Rights The Library is unaware of any copyright claims to this item; use at your own risk.

Note: If you use this image, rights assessment and attribution are your responsibility.

Harry S. Truman Library & Museum.

Attention media: Please make note of this item's accession number. Print out this page and retain it for your permissions records before downloading this image file for possible publication. Library staff cannot sign permissions forms or provide additional paperwork. The Library charges no usage fees for downloaded images.