

John R. Steelman signing the government wage policy

Description

Wage Stabilization Director John R. Steelman is shown signing the government wage policy to pave the way for payment to striking American Federation of Labor seamen of wage increases twice disapproved by the Wage Stabilization Board. He said he amended the existing wage regulations to provide that government agencies may pay wages and salaries "comparable to the wages and salaries paid for the same or comparable services by other operators". From: Beth Gore

Date(s)

September 12, 1946

Accession Number 99-1134

8x10 inches (21x26 cm) Black & White

Keywords Administrative agencies Civil service Economic policy Labor unions

HST Keywords American Federation of Labor; Wage Stabilization Board

People Pictured Steelman, John Roy, 1900-1999

Rights The Library is unaware of any copyright claims to this item; use at your own risk.

Note: If you use this image, rights assessment and attribution are your responsibility.

Credit: Harris & Ewing Harry S. Truman Library & Museum.

Attention media: Please make note of this item's accession number. Print out this page and retain it for your permissions records before downloading this image file for possible publication. Library staff cannot sign permissions forms or provide additional paperwork. The Library charges no usage fees for downloaded images.