Photograph of the Boeing YL-15 Scout

Description

The Boeing YL-15 Scout was one of the planes viewed by President Truman during his visit to Fort Bragg, North Carolina, in October 4, 1949, to review airborne maneuvers as well as to review 20,000 troops and inspect new artillery weapons. The plane shown here was photographed in flight during the initial stages of the extensive service testing program now being conducted on the versatile liaison plane by the Army Field Forces and the Air Force. It was manufactured by the Boeing Airplane Company, Wichita, Kansas Division, photo no. BW-40421.
