Description

Partial, exterior view of a large building believed to be located in Sochi, Russia. At the time the building was a government sponsored sanitarium located by the Black Sea. Later it became the Ordzhonikidze Spa Hotel. According to Charles Thayer's curriculum vitae: "In 1955 I made an extended tour of European and Asiatic Russia and wrote a series for the Saturday Evening Post on post-Stalinist Soviet Union." It is believed this photograph was taken during that tour.
