

An aerial photograph of the St. Louis area during the 1917 influenza pandemic. The image shows the Mississippi River winding through the landscape. In the center, there is a large, rectangular area that appears to be a military camp or a large-scale construction project, possibly related to the war effort. The surrounding land is a mix of open fields and some developed areas. The photograph is in black and white and has a grainy, historical quality. A large, diagonal watermark reading "COPYRIGHT" is visible across the image. In the bottom right corner, there is a small caption in a different font.

President Harry S. Truman's airplane, the Independence, flies over flood-ravaged Sioux City, Iowa.

April 16, 1952

4x5.5 inches      Black & White

HST Keywords Truman - Trips - Other - Presidential

Note: If you use this image, rights assessment and attribution are your responsibility.

Attention media: Please make note of this item's accession number. Print out this page and retain it for your permissions records before downloading this image file for possible publication. Library staff cannot sign permissions forms or provide additional paperwork. The Library charges no usage fees for downloaded images.