Political Cartoon by Jim Berryman

Accession Number 64-737

Description
This is a photograph of a political cartoon by Jim Berryman for the Washington Evening Star, originally published in 1944. Senator Harry S. Truman holds a document which reads "Army wastes skills of 90% of draftees. He is looking at a man holding a carpetbag labeled "late summer session." The man tells Truman, "The army's a piker, Senator... looks like I'm going to be wasting 100% of my skill for awhile!" They are standing next to a board labeled "Truman Committee Reports". The man is holding a paper labeled "Congressional Calendar" reading "No business in sight" and "waiting for reconversion bills."

Date(s) ca.
1964

5x7 inches (13x18 cm) Black & White

Keywords Political cartoons World War, 1939-1945

People Pictured Truman, Harry S., 1884-1972

Rights Public Domain - This item is in the public domain and can be used freely without further permission.

Note: If you use this image, rights assessment and attribution are your responsibility.

Credit: Harry S. Truman Library Harry S. Truman Library & Museum.

Attention media: Please make note of this item's accession number. Print out this page and retain it for your permissions records before downloading this image file for possible publication. Library staff cannot sign permissions forms or provide additional paperwork. The Library charges no usage fees for downloaded images.