

Destroyed Urakami Cathedral Tower in Nagasaki

Description

Remains of Urakami Cathedral in Nagasaki, Japan, after the atomic bomb destroyed the city. The entrance tower is partially intact with arch and round window openings above. A sign in Japanese stands in front of the ruins. A portion of the temporary church building is on the right.

Date(s) ca.

1947

Accession Number 2023-520

2.1 x 2.8 inches Black & White

Rights Public Domain - This item is in the public domain and can be used freely without further permission.

Note: If you use this image, rights assessment and attribution are your responsibility.

Harry S. Truman Library & Museum.

Attention media: Please make note of this item's accession number. Print out this page and retain it for your permissions records before downloading this image file for possible publication. Library staff cannot sign permissions forms or provide additional paperwork. The Library charges no usage fees for downloaded images.